48TH CORSA INTERNATIONAL CORVAIR CONVENTION
JULY 23-28, 2018
 Hosted by WESTERN PENNSYLVANIA CORVAIR CLUB

Conventioners,
 The host hotel, the DoubleTree Hotel in Greentree, PA has 460 rooms. They are not blocking any for us. Instead they are releasing rooms as needed with no limit. If we take up the whole hotel so be it. As of today there are 167 rooms reserved. With that said, sometimes they are slow to release more rooms for our convention. This is at the corporate level, not the people in Greentree. We have run into this unfortunately before, but gets cleared up rather quickly. Usually a day or two. Hilton corporate says they will not take reservations if you call the front desk, the computer will show that there is no convention at all. That is why if you don't reserve online at www.corvairpittsburgh.com, or call there reservation line, 1-800-222-TREE(8733) and use code CCA, there may be a issue. If any other requests or problems exists please e-mail, call, or fill out the contact information on the website and I will surely get back to you.

Thank you,
 Jim Weppelman

Donuts, Muffins, Cookies, Cakes, Brownies, Pies, etc..

Your talents and donations are needed!

Volunteers needed who would like to donate bake sale items to our 2018 Corvair Day in September. We are expanding the list due to requests from last year.

This year, we would like to offer donuts, muffins, cookies, pies, cakes, chips, candy, and brownies. Additional items are welcomed!

Please email me at lcl@pa.net with what you would like to donate so we don't have too much of one item and not enough of others.

GETTING GURNEY RIGHT
 Dan Gurney was one of my favorite race car drivers. He raced practically anything with wheels and made a lasting impression on me. He stood out to me the first time I saw him at the 1965 Indy 500 parade when I was only 3½ years old.

The article about his accomplishments claims he had seven victories at the Indy 500 as a driver ["Gurney Goes," Muscle Car Rewind, Apr. 2018]. While he did win seven Champ Car races, none of them were the Indy 500. As the owner of AAR he won the Indy 500 three times, twice with Bobby Unser and once with Gordon Johncock.

Mark Niggemann

PRESIDENTS MESSAGE

I hope everyone is having a good summer. We should all keep in our prayers and thoughts on our members with health issues. Paul & Yvonne Brown and Jim Enfield, we are hoping to see them better soon and back to Corvairing.

We will be having a regular meeting, Tuesday, July 10th at Hoss's since we moved the picnic to Saturday, August 11th at my house. As always, the pool is available for use. For all our new members, this is a family event. You can bring your children or grandchildren. Even though most everyone just sits around, eats and talks, there is always plenty of supervision for anyone young or old using the pool. Joyce & I will supply the drinks and meat for sandwiches. Everyone usually brings a desert or something your mother would want you to eat. We always seem to have plenty of food and a good variety. If anyone has any special diet needs don't hesitate to bring it along. My neighbors always enjoy the Corvairs parked on the street. We do have the picnic rain or shine and do have space inside if the weather isn't cooperating. If it is a really hot day and you prefer to spend time in the A/C you are certainly welcome to do so.

Directions to our house are as follows:

- ⇒ From points north (Route 30) south on Route 94, 4th traffic light turn left to Dart Drive. First house after 4 way stop signs on the right, 403 Dart Drive.
- ⇒ From points south, north on Route 94 to Dart Drive, McDonalds on the corner, turn right onto Dart Drive, first house after the 4 way stop signs.

If you need help call, 717-632-5617. See you at the picnic.

John Berkheimer

At the July meeting we must decide on a date for our October overnight tour to Williamsport. A lot of planning must take place such as: hotel accommodations and cost, decide weather to drive Corvairs or rent vans, and getting tours scheduled once we are there. John Johnson did such a fantastic job on the Johnstown overnight, I guess you can say he set the standard HIGH.

We must also continue with our Corvair Day planning, approval of registration sheets. If anyone needs additional VISA card tickets to sell, you can make copies yourself or we can see you get some. Remember sell as many as possible and you need not be present to win.

Finally, let's get your Corvairs out and drive. Every time I take mine out I hear many Corvair stories. I did one trip to Greensburg, PA, 161 miles each way to the AACA Grand National Event and I will be driving to the CORSA Convention in Pittsburgh, PA in July. On the way to Greensburg, I stopped for gas and someone stopped just to look at the car and talk about his father having one when he was growing up. Joyce and I heard many more stories while at the Grand National event.

Linda and I attended the "Thunder on the River" Car Show in Columbia, PA on June 16th. There were over 500+ cars there and all parked on many streets downtown. We had a great spot in the Columbia Park, right in front. Luckily, we won a Sponsors Award (Gamby's Disposal Service). There were great door prizes and cash awards given away. Unfortunately, we didn't win any of those.

Dave Steigauf was there with his Corvair convertible. Paul & Joyce Ilyes was also there (they recently sold their Corvair coupe). We met Eddy & Amy Davila who recently moved to Columbia from New York. Ed has a 1974 Yellow Camaro which was a very nice car. He just bought his wife a 1963 Monza convertible, white with a white interior. Both of their cars were at the show. We talked Corvairs quite a bit and they are interested in joining the club. They are hoping to get to the Club Meeting at Hoss's on July 10th. Their Corvair is very interesting with the additional features done to it.

Take 5 with Ed Welburn

Taken from Hot Rod Network Written by John Pearley Huffman on November 14, 2017

Ed Welburn started working at General Motors as a designer in 1972 when he was 21 years old. By 2003, he had risen through the ranks to become vice president of global design. With that, he became the highest-positioned African American in the automotive industry. He retired last year, leaving behind a legacy that includes the 2010 fifth-generation Camaro, the C7 Corvette, and every current Buick, Cadillac, and GMC. Welburn now operates The Welburn Group from an office that allows him to park his silver 1957 Corvette next to his desk.

HRM] Was there a car you particularly admired as you were growing up?

EW] I'll never forget the first Corvette I ever saw. It was 1956 and I was five years old, the best I can recollect. I would suspect it was a '55. I was walking down a tree-lined road in my hometown and up ahead I saw this sports car—it was metallic blue, it had this wire mesh over the headlamps, and these little fins off the taillamps. When the split-window Sting Ray came out, it totally blew my mind. I looked like a rocket ship.

HRM] What town did you grow up in?

EW] I grew up in Berwyn, Pennsylvania—a suburb of Philadelphia. At one end of town was Bill "Grumpy" Jenkins' shop, and Hank's Speed Shop was at the other end of town. And then Penske's original wasn't far away in Newtown Square. So it was all around me. I was into hot rods, NASCAR, sports cars, and everything car related.

HRM] You were always into cars and racing?

EW] My father used to take me, before I was old enough to drive, up to Cecil County Dragway in Maryland. At Vineland Speedway, I saw Old Reliable race against one of the Ford teams. The Super Stock Nationals were at Cecil County, and York Dragway wasn't far away. And when I was in high school, I spent my summers working in a Chevy dealership at the real high point of muscle cars—1968 or 1969. Roth Chevrolet in Paoli.

HRM] How do you see the cars from the 1960s?

EW] It's interesting. In the early 1960s, the cars from GM were very boxy. And the 1963 Sting Ray and the 1963 Buick Riviera had a huge influence on everything. By 1965, the entire portfolio of Chevrolets was influenced by the Stingray. If you look at the forms on the 1965 Impala—a car that I love—and you'll see that this all came from Sting Ray. All of them—the Corvair Monza, and even the Nova—were inspired by the Sting Ray. And then the whole Buick portfolio was inspired by the Riviera. So the GM cars were getting more fluid and the Ford cars, while sleek, were more angular.

HRM] Were there cars that everyone else thought were cool, but you just didn't like?

EW] When I was a kid, I never cared for cars from Chrysler. I admit the Hemi engine was a big deal. And the Hemi drag cars were great cars. You wouldn't want to drive them on the street, but as a drag car, I had to admit, they were king.

HRM] You used to build model cars when you were a kid. Was that good training for your career?

EW] It was. Because I never just built them by the instructions as a stock model. I had to modify them in some way. I had to make them look like the drag cars in the magazines, and I was reading the magazines all the time. I was building them as hot rods or drag cars. I really wasn't into custom cars that much.

HRM] Can a car's design be too successful? Some say, for instance, that the current sixth-generation Camaro looks too much like the successful fifth-generation Camaro.

EW] It's certainly never hurt Porsche. It's a very crowded industry, and you have to put your stake in the ground and stick with it. It's a fine line between building on the heritage of the brand and being dated. The most recent Corvette still builds on the 1959 Sting Ray racer. But yet I'd argue it's a thoroughly new design and that most of the customers don't even know about the 1959 Sting Ray racer, and they just see the new Corvette and they like it.

HRM] At GM, did you guys bring in old cars to the studio for inspiration?

EW] We talked about them. With Corvette, we talked about it and kept the history of the brand visible. All the studios do. The Buick studio to be inspired by a 1953 Skylark or a 1965 Riviera is important. There are certainly great Cadillacs that the Cadillac studio looks at. It's part of your heritage and important to keep in front of you.

HRM] Is it more difficult to design a small car or a large car?

EW] A small car is more difficult. With a large car, you have a lot more leeway in creating a well-proportioned vehicle. A small can be very difficult. It can be fun once you get started. But people don't get any smaller, so the cabin where the people are can't proportionally shrink. But at the end of the day, when you get it right, it can be great.

HRM] Which is best: '55, '56, or '57 Chevy?

EW] Oh, the '55 by far. I love it. Perfection. I have a diecast model of one, and it's a single-tone red. And everything is perfect. I love the coupe and the Nomad. I prefer the pillarless to the pillar. But I like them both.

HRM] Is there any non-GM vehicle that you'd like to own?

EW] I very much admire Aston Martin. I really like what they do. I'm not as crazy about the latest one. I'd like to own a luxury coupe that's easy to get in and out of. I love my Corvettes, but a more luxurious coupe would be nice.
