1. The 55th National Apple Harvest Festival will be upon us before you know it. We are looking forward to another great year. Please review the following guidelines for displaying your vehicle at the 2019 festival.

Registration: This year's registration fee will be $10.00 ($11 if purchased online) per antique auto. This fee will cover any day or days you wish to attend the festival. Your registration includes free admission for 2 people in the car. If there are more than two people in your auto, the additional people will be charged $5.00 per person at the gate. Please do not bring cars newer than 1980 and cars must be in show quality condition. Due to limited space, we can only accept 250 cars per festival day. All autos attending the display must be pre-registered. Registrations are accepted on a first come first serve basis. All registrations must be received by September 1st due to mailing confirmation letters. Display cars must be present on the festival grounds by 11:00 a.m. daily or they will not be admitted. Please plan for the festival traffic so you arrive at the festival by 11:00 a.m. (Worship services are held in Apple Auditorium at 10:00 a.m. each Sunday). No tents or canopies permitted in display area. Smoking is permitted in designated areas only.

2. Directions: You will receive a registration confirmation letter. You must bring this confirmation letter with you every day that you attend the festival. As you enter the festival grounds the fire police will direct you to the Antique Auto gate. After checking in with the Antique Auto staff you will be given an information packet and further direction to park your vehicle.
3. Awards: Awards will be presented daily at 2:45 p.m. under the Antique Auto display tent. After the completion of the awards presentation, the gate will be reopened for autos to leave the festival grounds. All autos need to remain on display from 11:00 a.m. through the awards program.

V-P Rambling

Spring, is it finally here? We haven't had snow since March, but tornado warnings, severe thunderstorm warnings and flood warnings have been the norm in April. Mother Nature has got to give us a break. I have yet to get either of the Corvairs out this spring. I am hoping to drive one to Hanover on April 27th to the tech session. Since it is April 20th writing this article, hopefully, I can talk about the great time I had on the 27th in a future newsletter. It looks as if we are going to have an active year as a Club. Road trips and cruises have always been my favorites. As far as Car Shows, don't forget the Markets of Shrewsbury host a great show the 4th Friday of the month. I usually try to go, if you get a chance, give me a call and we can meet before going into the show. That guarantees we can park together. There are generally 600+ cars in attendance any given Show date.

Switching gears, I want to talk about the changing Corvair auction market. The latest Barrett-Jackson auction had several of note. A 1962 Rampside 4 speed went for $70,000!! A 1964 Monza powerglide convertible 100 hp and a '66 Monza powerglide convertible with air, each brought $38,000!!! Yet a beautiful '64 Spyder Convertible Yellow with black interior only brought $16,500. All the Corvairs brought $12,000 minimum no matter coupe or convertible. The Corvair market is definitely heating up. Another item of interest happened when I was surfing the internet. There was an article about the first "Cannonball Run". As I was checking out the vehicles participating, there sat a Greenbrier. Who would have guessed that! I need to do some research to see the year and whether the Greenbrier finished. There was a program on the Motor Trend channel that featured a Greenbrier. It is owned by a photographer who travels, mostly the West, taking and selling photos to sell to advertisers and magazines. He said he puts 60,000 miles on the van each year and has not had any major problems. The van carries his equipment as well as providing somewhere to sleep when the need arises.

Enough rambling for this month. Remember to keep your eyes open to the "car channels" as I can guarantee you will see our Corvairs taking their long-deserved bows.

The Preventive Maintenance Series

By Mike Dawson

Tales of Two Recent Maintenance Issues

1. Clutch pedal goes to the floor-literally!

One of our members, Linda Reece, was driving in Harrisonville with her grandchildren tucked into her 1964 Spyder convertible when the clutch pedal went to the floor and then the entire pedal and arm assembly fell out onto the floor. After driving without a clutch to a safe spot, she called me with the errant part in her hand. After I explained what had happened she contacted friends and a tow truck and had the Spyder brought to my place. This particular trauma is only common to manual transmission early model cars but it is a combination of marginal welding at the factory, cycles of use and stiffness of the pressure plate and return spring. The support that is bolted under the dash has a tube welded to it that has two plastic bushings for the clutch pedal to pivot on. If you have an early model car with manual transmission I would recommend heading off the possible failure by initiating a preventive operation.

At first examination it looks like you cannot remove the assembly without taking out the steering column but with a little twisting (you and the column) you can accomplish removal and installation. The first step is to remove the clutch return spring and unhook the adjusting rod from the lever at the rear, so you have slack in the cable. Next, since there are plastic bushings at the welding site, you must unbolt the assembly (3 bolts), remove it with the pedal stop and then remove the snap ring and two bushings. If the tube with the bushings has already bent slightly, be sure and use a square to align it before welding. Hook the clutch cable clevis back on the pedal arm before bolting the bracket tight.

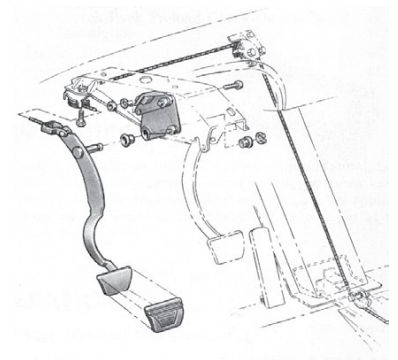

2. Failed fuel pump repairs itself overnight?

Another member, Sherman Rutherford, was on his way to the Thunder in the Valley Speedway for our club gathering when he was spotted in a parking lot with both lids up. When I arrived Sherman already had a gas line off and had determined that no gas was being delivered to the carburetors. The quick diagnosis by both of us was that another mechanical fuel pump had expired. Once removed, I tried pumping the stem on the pavement but no suction was available so a new pump was installed and off to the racetrack we went. As the club met in the shade of the bleachers, we discussed fuel pumps and I took Sherman's dead pump apart. There was no evidence of loose valves, ruptured fabric, or rust pieces, so I reassembled it and tried stroking it again. No suction. It came apart again and this time (with reading glasses) I noticed that the edge of the rubber/fabric valve was up off of the seat slightly. I used a pen to push it back down but it popped back up. I thought it must have dirt under it and turned my attention to racecars and cold beverages. I would solve the mystery later.

The next morning I returned to the fuel pump valve body and discovered that overnight the open valve had closed with out any help. I reassembled the pump and it worked perfectly. My first suspect was that the valves were warping due to high heat and gas additives. After Sherman indicated he purchased premium fuel at Casey's I am speculating that our culprit is 15% ethanol. After talking to several folks about the issue I think that Casey's adds another 5% ethanol at the terminal and uses the "splash method" of mixing to provide their premium grade at the pump. I asked the manager at our local Casey's about their premium fuel but received a non-answer for my trouble. A shop here in Belton says that they do a lot of older Chrysler vehicle valve jobs because the exhaust valves burn from too much ethanol. I personally have never used the premium that has ethanol but using the regular grade with 10% has never caused any problems in my cars other than hot idle or hot restart issues, which I have largely solved.

There are several stations in the metro area that sell premium with no ethanol – I would recommend spending the additional dollars, your Corvair will probably reward you with better service.

ODD BUT TRUE CORVAIR STORY

A lady wanted to be buried in her EM vair sitting behind the wheel! She made all her own funeral arrangements and while she was not allowed to be seated in the car she did get her wish and was buried in it. EPA or what ever required that engine trans be removed along with the fuel tank and all fluids like brake etc. She had to buy 4 grave plots to accommodate the size of the car a special sized vault was made to hold it and the rear window and panel below it along with the seats were removed the casket was tilted slightly and slid through the rear opening into the car picture in the paper shows the vair hanging from a crane with the casket inside being lowered into her grave.
